

Collaborative Discussions in Any Meeting Room Through a Familiar Microsoft® Lync® Experience

LifeSize® LRS1000™ for Microsoft® Lync®

Codeveloped with Microsoft for Lync 2013, LifeSize LRS1000 extends the Microsoft Lync experience to the meeting room. Connect through the power of software for a collaborative video experience using a native Lync interface.

Connecting with your customers, partners and teams over Microsoft Lync, from wherever you are, has never been so incredibly easy. With LifeSize LRS1000 for Microsoft Lync, you can work with teams around the world through the user experience you already know, including all the powerful Lync collaboration tools. Single or dual touch displays are perfect for digital whiteboarding and real-time global collaboration. And each system comes equipped with an HD camera, stereo audio, a micpod and a touch-screen control console that showcases the meeting calendar and company directory with presence. Walk into any meeting room and start collaborating interactively at the touch of a button—no need for training, no need for tech team or IT support.

Access Microsoft Lync Tools

All the Microsoft Lync tools that you've come to depend on, like whiteboarding, sharing documents and secure conferencing, are accessible in any meeting or conference room via the LifeSize LRS1000 system.

Extend Collaboration with LifeSize® UVC Multipoint™

Enable seamless collaboration between users on LRS1000 systems, Lync-enabled mobile devices, Lync-enabled computers and traditional video systems like the LifeSize® Icon™ Series or LifeSize® 220™ Series with LifeSize UVC Multipoint Enterprise Edition*. It adds support for massive multiparty calls with up to 128 callers in a conference, while seeing up to 49 people on screen at the same time. Connect with any room in your organization already equipped with traditional video systems from LifeSize or others—no need to worry about interoperability or losing your investment.
